London—A ransom of $2,000,000 for the foreigners held prisoner, is demanded by the Chinese bandits, says a Central News Dispatch from Shanghai. The British and American garrisons at Tientsin have been mobilized, the dispatch adds.

Washington—Secretary Hughes issued a report on the Chinese bandit situation at the cabinet meeting Tuesday detailing the information received by the state department. The president and his advisers discussed the matter in a general way but the general opinion was that more information would be necessary before definite steps could be taken.

"PROVINCIAL LAWLESSNESS" was the term applied to the situation in China by a white house spokesman, who declared President Harding regarded conditions there as almost wholly the result of weakness of the central government.

The president, it was said, is determined that the American government shall do everything possible to protect its nationals in China. The suggestion was made at the white house that the international bankers, who are parties to the Chinese consortium were in a position to extend a powerful helping hand through stabilization of the central government of the republic.

AMERICAN ESCAPES

Tientsin, China—Messrs Day and Jacobson, and Miss Correll, three of the foreigners who escaped from the bandits who raided the Peking Express at Szechow early Sunday, arrived here Tuesday.

Mr. Day, an American, said that the bandits split the captives into several parties after forcing them to leave the train and hurried them into the hills. "If a prisoner lagged he was prodded with a rifle butt," said Day. "Strict silence was enforced. I was struck in the forehead for talking to my neighbor."

The lair of the bandits, Day continued, was a village in a hill encircled by a lone compound. Within an hour or two after the arrival of the prisoners, soldiers appeared outside the town and soon a lively engagement was in progress.

The brigands' chieftain persuaded Day to take a note to the commander of the military forces, informing him that if the fire did not stop the captives would be shot. While crossing the open ground to the troops, he was fired on by both sides.

Day delivered his message, whereupon the troops quit firing, but the force did not withdraw. Remaining with the military, Day started a search for some of the other prisoners and came upon Miss Schonberg, sitting on a boulder, exhausted. She, like the other women, had escaped when dispatched as a messenger.

Jacobson, however, knocked out his guard with a large stone and ran.

SHANGHAI—Two foreigners, including one unidentified American, have been killed in the shooting incident to the bandit raid on the Peking express train, according to a list compiled here Tuesday. One of the foreigners was Joseph Rothman, a British subject.

Two escaped Chinese passengers, arriving at Tsinan, related that the captives were marched ten miles into the hills and there classified by the outlaw chieftain according to their probable worth. After questioning it was decided that foreigners would be held for a ransom of $50,000 each; Chinese of the first class for $30,000 each, those of the second class for $10,000 and those held to be of lower value for $2,000.

RELEASE EDITOR

The Chinese newspaper, Shin-Pao, published in Shanghai, reported that Kang Tung Yu, its Sunday editor, was captured and released.

The brigands are said to be splitting into groups with their captives and scattering in the hills 20 miles from the railway.

A regiment of Kiangsu provincial troops has been sent from Nanking.

WOMEN IN HOSPITAL

New York—Miss Lucy T. Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller and Miss Minnie MacLadden of Providence, R. I., the traveling companion, are in hospital at Peking. Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was informed in a message from Dr. Robert Goldman in Peking.

Neither is in a serious condition as the result of their experiences in the Chinese bandit raid, the message said, and watch were missing.

City Given Reminder Of Winter Days

A touch of winter was experienced by Appletonians Tuesday when early in the morning a drizzle that had been spasmodically in progress since early Monday morning, turned into light snow flakes and again into rain.

With the thermometer hovering around freezing point, Appleton experienced one of the coldest May days it has known.

The rain Monday was regarded as beneficial though Tuesday's chilly atmosphere was looked upon with some concern by the farmers.

The weather man promises continued freezing temperature Tuesday night but somewhat warmer weather is forecast for Wednesday afternoon.

ASHLAND—A heavy blizzard with driving snow is reported to be making navigation difficult on Lake Superior. Extensive ice fields driven by a strong northeast wind add to the hazard.

Superior—Covering summer's mantle of green, one half on inch of snow fell in and around Superior during the night, part melting and part staying on the ground. The temperature dropped to 30 degrees above zero but rose to 33 above Tuesday morning. The snow stopped falling about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Menominee, Mich.—Menominee and Marinette are in the throes of a racing snowstorm, which started at seven o'clock this morning and at near noon has developed into a regular blizzard, nearly as thick as any experienced here last winter. It is the worst snow storm in the month of May since 1895 when early crops froze up on the 13th day of May in this region.

FIRE AT BANDIT,
HIT BRITISH ENVOY

Moscow—Henry Slogett, a member of the British mission, was seriously wounded Monday evening when his official automobile was boarded by a bandit who was trying to escape from the scene of burglary.

The man was fired on by the pursuing militia and a bullet struck Slogett in the head. L. Patterson, another Briton who was riding in the machine was not harmed. The surgeon who attended Slogett said he thought the bullet had not penetrated his heart.

He watched the crowds, gay colorful throngs in the street below. Payne, who was then 32, crossed the room, sat down at his desk, and the words that he drew from his soul have lived ever since as "Home, Sweet Home."

"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

Payne, a man of the world despite his years, meant that.

UNITE IN CELEBRATION

And now, one hundred years after the lonesome man wrote the words destined to be repeated at one time or another by every English speaking man and woman in the world, musicians of England and America are uniting in celebration.

"Home, Sweet Home" was but one number in a musical offering, "Clari, the Maid of Milan." It is the only number to survive.

The report of the triunay officer showed that he had made calls because of the triunay of 16 boys and 6 girls. The report of the finances of the high school was accepted by the board.

The relations between Great Britain and Russia are regarded as rather critical but the British mission accepts the incident as a regrettable coincidence.

The bandit who was the cause of the shooting was seriously wounded.

"BELFRY DWELLER" FINDS

NEW ROOST IN HAY MOW

Beaver Dam—William Chowick, "belfry dweller" of Juneau, has been recaptured.

Chowick terrorized Juneau residents a few months ago by breaking into residences and was caught in the belfry of a church where he had been hiding at night after three weeks of raiding. Later he was sentenced to jail but was placed on probation, at that time being put to work on a farm near Waupaca.

Two weeks ago Chowick disappeared. Again garages were broken into at Waupaca and stores robbed at Burnett. Authorities believed the work to be that of Chowick. Monday he was taken into custody when found in a haymow of the farm where he had been working and was taken to the county jail at Juneau by Sheriff Lange. Chowick admitted visiting various nearby towns, but denied the burglaries.

ROBBERS SLUG WATCHMAN AND PLACE BODY IN OVEN

Merrill—Authorities here were surprised a clear Monday night to the identity of the bandits who Sunday slugged John Schilke, night watchman at the Kauke Inn plant here, and left his body over the opening of a ditch oven where it was later found, partially cremated.

Schilke, it is believed, was struck down when he went to punch the time clock. That robbery was the motive is believed to be indicated by the fact that the dead man's money and watch were missing.

Werden—Dr. Krupp Von Bohlen, head of the Krupp works, Tuesday was sentenced to 15 years in jail and fined 100,000,000 marks by a court martial here as a result of the shooting at the Krupp plant on March 31. Directors Hartwig and Oesterlein also were sentenced to 15 years imprisonment each, Director Bruhn to 10 years and Baur and Schaeffer to 20 years each. All were also fined 100,000,000 marks each.

Counsel for the prosecution at the Krupp court martial proceedings, summing up his case, demanded a prison sentence of fifteen years in addition to a fine of 100,000,000 marks for Baron Krupp Von Bohlen and Halbach, president of the works.

Counsel based his demand for conviction on two principal points: First, the connection of the directors with the spread of propaganda against the French troops; second, the fact that they looked out of the factory windows on the mob without taking any steps to stop the demonstration.

An architects' conference with the members of the newly appointed building committee of the board of education took place Tuesday morning and part of Tuesday afternoon at the city hall as a result of the meeting of the board at the high school office on Monday afternoon. The building committee will have power to act in details of the building business for the board of education was appointed at the meeting Monday to include six members: Paul V. Carey, A. Jahlstrom, A. G. Koch, A. S. Galpin, Henry Reuter and Lee C. Rasey. Such details of the plans for the junior high school as could be decided on Tuesday were taken up.

Menominee, Mich.—Menominee and Marinette are in the throes of a racing snowstorm, which started at seven o'clock this morning and at near noon has developed into a regular blizzard, nearly as thick as any experienced here last winter. It is the worst snow storm in the month of May since 1895 when early crops froze up on the 13th day of May in this region.

UNITE IN CELEBRATION

And now, one hundred years after the lonesome man wrote the words destined to be repeated at one time or another by every English speaking man and woman in the world, musicians of England and America are uniting in celebration.

"Home, Sweet Home" was but one number in a musical offering, "Clari, the Maid of Milan." It is the only number to survive.

The impression once held that Payne, when he wrote the words, was a "homeless author," and down-and-out, has been shattered a long time. He was far from that.

Born in 1791 in New York city, Payne entered Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., at an early year. While there, as editor of a magazine, he wrote a poem called "Home, Dear Home." It was this poem that was re-written years later, into the one we all know.

BECAAME ACTOR

Payne soon developed a fondness for the stage. His parents objected, and he turned his talents to theatrical writing.

When he left college, his parents were bankrupt. No longer did he deny the call of the stage. Virtually his first appearance, at the old Park theater, New York, was a complete success. Other productions followed.

These so filled him with confidence that he turned to producing—and in a short time found himself in the Fleet-street jail for a debt of $7,000.

Then he wrote "Theresa, the Orphan of Geneva," and with the proceeds cleared his debts and gave him something over and above.

It is now that we meet "Home, Sweet Home," for "Clari, the Maid of Milan," was his next effort, which he sold for $1,250.

WRITES MASTERPIECE

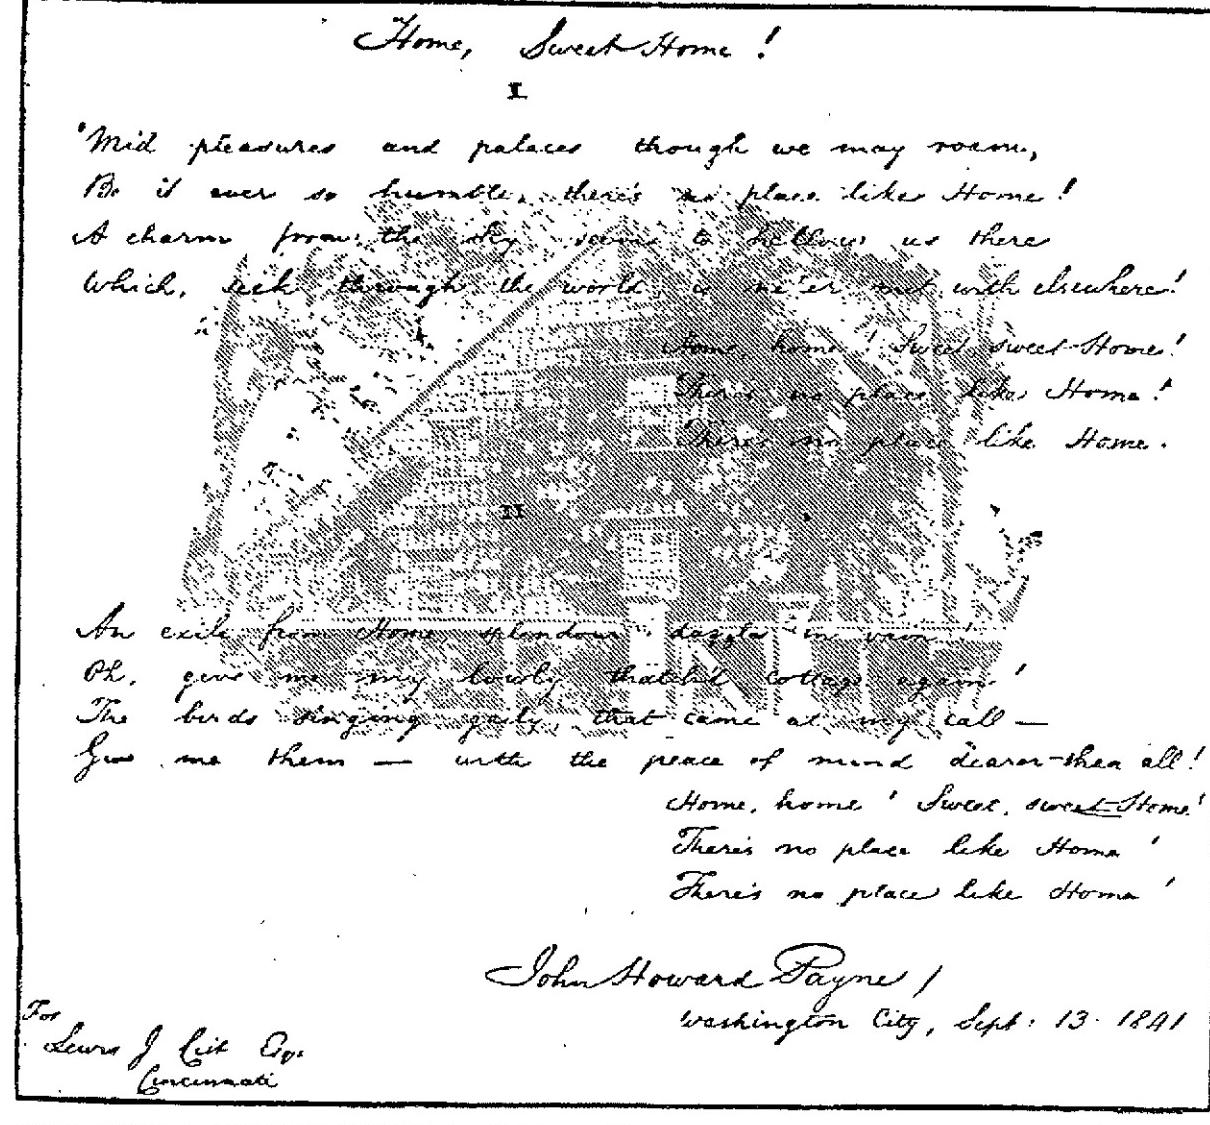

He composed "Home, Sweet Home" on a dull September day. And while the play was written for profit, the words of the one song in it that has survived came from his heart. They were inspired.

On May 8, 1823, it received its first rendition before a small London audience. The city went wild. Payne's name had gone down indelibly into the future.

The music of "Home, Sweet Home" generally is credited to serious danger.

UNITED STATES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CONVENES

New York—The annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, opening Tuesday with several thousand delegates in attendance, avowedly will be devoted to a presentation of facts concerning domestic and international problems by which, in belief of business men, the government should be guided in formulating its policies.

Homesickness Caused Payne
To Write Immortal Song

JOHN HOWARD PAYNE'S ORIGINAL WRITING OF "HOME, SWEET HOME." THE BACKGROUND IS THE HOME THAT HE LONGED FOR WHEN HE WROTE HIS INSPIRED CLASSIC.

New York—One hundred years ago Henry E. Bishop, Payne has said it is a young American composer. Payne is an adaptation of an Italian folk song he heard a maid of Italy humming.

At the age of 61, Payne died in Tunxis. In 1882, 30 years after his death, his remains were brought back, and buried in his beloved native soil, the land about which he wrote.

And so on this hundredth anniversary, "Home, Sweet Home" is being played in every theater in the land, in millions of homes, and is being broadcast from the giant radio station at Schenectady, scene of his college days.

Last Year's Misfortunes Forgotten In Effort To Make New Record

Wilbur F. Bogan, the hard-luck speed vigilance officer of the county highways last year, who was hurt in three accidents, and had one motorcycle shattered and another damaged several times, will be back on the job this season.

Bogan was reengaged to do police duty on the roads of the county during the present speeding season and will start work immediately. The county motorcycle officer is out to beat his last year's record of arrests which suffered somewhat on account of the several periods he was incapacitated.

In 1882, 30 years after his death, his remains were brought back, and brought to rest in the cemetery of the Atlantic in the last five years.

U. S. READY TO HELP

America has one bit of help to offer and stands ready today as it did several months ago to assist in the execution of that suggestion, namely the creation of an international commission of financiers and business men who would examine the whole subject and recommend to their respective governments what they think Germany ought to pay. Secretary Hughes has been the father of that idea and he is still of the belief that only by some such plan can the world get a fair opinion of what Germany's capacity to pay really is or will be.

France and the latter is too much filled with the antagonisms of the hour to look upon reparations from a business standpoint rather than a sentimental one. Meanwhile the world doesn't know the facts. Until they are brought forth, diplomatic correspondence will get no where and the condition of Germany will tend to grow worse instead of better with a corresponding effect on the economic position of the French—this is the viewpoint here.

And it is one with which the British are sympathetic though they have not yet publicly expressed their approval of the Hughes plan.

The Germans have officially stated their willingness to abide by the decision of a commission such as Mr. Hughes proposed. The question now is how long the French will continue to believe direct negotiations with Germany will yield a better result with a more satisfactory guarantee than some conciliatory settlement in which all the Allies participate.

Anticipating a break in relations, the British mission several days ago warned all Britons in Russia that, in view of the delicate situation, they should prepare to leave the country.

Sign posts will be erected at the entrances of the village, the board decided, warning antelots of the speed limit of 15 miles an hour. "No parking" signs also are to be placed appropriately in the village.

MISSING SHIP RETURNS

St. Petersburg, Fla.—The Q-15, U. S. coast guard vessel which was reported lost at sea since May 5, dropped anchor in Bay Harbor here late Monday night following a rough time on the high seas, but was at no time in the vicinity of the ship removing the secret clause from income tax returns.

COURT RULES AGAINST SECRET CLAUSE FIGHT

Madison—The Wisconsin Supreme Court Tuesday morning refused to grant the application of William J. Hinchee, proposed. The question now is how long the French will continue to believe direct negotiations with Germany will yield a better result with a more satisfactory guarantee than some conciliatory settlement in which all the Allies participate.

Only the French can answer that, and so the American government believes in watchful waiting while events and facts have their effect on French policy.

FRATERNITY FARMING

Saturday was an interesting day at the Beta house. The "worms" were under orders. Two of them were soon to be most industriously planting flowers of a rare variety at the side of the house. Every half hour they came out and watered and feed them. The flowers which were of the crepe paper variety, seemed to thrive from the careful attention received.

HOT ON HIS TRAIL

Monday afternoon at about 5 o'clock I noticed a Ford touring car whose driver was very much under the influence of moonshine. The only thing that kept him from falling out of the car was his grip on the wheel. He turned west on College Avenue from Richmond st. drove zig zag to Locust st. turned around and started back on College Avenue. A few minutes later the motor cop was in that end of town looking for him.

A friend and I took our little girls to the Elite Matinee and after the show I passed out first. The other little girl stopped at my seat and reached down for some rubbers she saw thinking them mine. She tugged and her mother also believing them to be mine, stooped to help her. She gave one jerk when she discovered the rubbers and feet as well belonged to the lady sitting in the seat behind.

BAD ACCIDENT

Sunday afternoon we were coming from Winneconne on the Algoma-st pavement when we passed a car on which a tire was being changed at the right side of the road. We had no more than passed when we heard a crash and stopped to find that a Studebaker had slipped from the pavement in passing the car by the roadside. The front wheel was broken and the car swerved across the pavement, breaking a rear wheel off the other car. The driver of the Studebaker escaped with a few scratches but his companion broke his leg.

PLANTZ HELPING IN CAMPAIGN FOR CAMPBELL FUND

Late Milwaukee Journal Editor Will Be Honored With Memorial

Friends of the late Henry Campbell, who was assistant editor of the Milwaukee Journal, especially members of the Milwaukee City club of which he was president for many years, have formulated a plan by which they hope to create a memorial in his honor. They plan to raise a sum of $20,000, the income from which will be devoted toward carrying out one of the ideals for which Mr. Campbell was noted in Milwaukee and in the state. There will be a more personal angle to the memorial, however, since the income will be turned over to Mrs. Campbell for her personal use while she lives.

Committees for this memorial fund have been appointed by the City club and Dr. Samuel Plantz of this city has been included in the committee which is headed by E. A. Marthens of Milwaukee. Others on the committee are E. A. Birne, president of the University of Wisconsin, Dr. W. A. Gantfield, president of Carroll college; Dr. Paul B. Jenkins, Williams Bay; Karl Matthei, Wausau; Dean Louis Reber, University of Wisconsin; Mrs. Ben C. Hooper, Oshkosh; Miss Zona Gale, Portage and others.

The memorial was started with real enthusiasm and two subscriptions of $1,000 each have already been received. Few citizens of Wisconsin have been able to give such services to the state and city as Mr. Campbell did and his many friends seem anxious to have his memory perpetuated. The City club plans to establish other memorials to its members who have given a distinguished service to their community.

MILEAGE BOOKS MAY NOT BE SOLD UNTIL JANUARY

Sale of interchangeable mileage books by carriers, expected to be authorized May 1, will not be authorized prior to Jan. 1, 1924, according to a decision of the interstate commerce commission. In the meantime the order is to be reconsidered and re-drafted. The original order called for the sale of 2,500 mile books at $7.3, a reduction of 20 per cent on the regular rate.

The American Farm Bureau federation protested on the ground that the decision was contrary to sound public policy, that it would produce an unjust discrimination in favor of a restricted class and make impossible any needed general readjustment in the general level of freight rates and passenger fares through the depletion of the revenue of the carriers.

NOTICE
The period of May 1 to 15, inclusive, is designated as "CLEAN UP WEEK." All rubbish and ashes will be hauled by the Street Department, provided, that same is placed on or near curb line in boxes, barrels or other containers, convenient for men to handle while loading. Any rubbish not in containers will not be taken. May 15th, is the last day for placing on curb and only one trip will be made along the street for this service.

Also, all parties now having ashes or rubbish on streets, not in containers and who do not care to avail themselves of this service, are hereby notified to remove same during the period of May 1 to May 15.

OSCAR F. WEISSGERBER,
Commissioner of Streets.

TWIN CALVES AID FARMER TO BUILD PUREBRED HERD

On the farm of Walter Ziegler, Greenville, a purebred Holstein cow, Dera Cornelius, gave birth a week ago to perfect twin calves, weighing 100 pounds each.

Apart from this remarkable doubling up of individual effort to populate the Ziegler farm as quickly as possible with purchased Holstein animals, Dera Cornelius, at three years of age, established a production of 72 pounds of milk in one day, and an average of 68 pounds of milk a day and 21 pounds of butter, in a seven day test. Although Mr. Ziegler is just starting to change from grades to purebreds, he already has five registered mature Holsteins on his farm. He is well pleased with his substantial increase in dairy profits going hand in hand with the substitution and understands that if Dera Cornelius keeps up her good work in milk production and in the birth of twins, he will have a good Holstein herd in one-half the time and at one-half the outlay usually required for such improvement.

HONOR MEMORY OF DEPARTED LION

The memory of Dr. J. J. Ellsworth, first member of Appleton Lions club to die, was eulogized by Dr. J. A. Holmes at the weekly meeting of the club at Conway hotel Monday noon. A memorial service in honor of Dr. Ellsworth was held.

Lions heard Bonnell Little, representing the Oneida Johnston post of the American Legion, describe the Americanization work conducted by that organization. Mr. Little told of the campaign that is designed to make a larger proportion of the people citizens of the United States. Action, not speeches and flowery talk, is needed in the campaign, Mr. Little said. He also described the motion picture production, "The Man Without a Country," which will be shown at the Elite theatre on May 14.

George Dame, Louis Lazar and H. W. Debauer were appointed as a committee to make final arrangements for the Appleton club's participation in the state convention in Madison next week. Ben J. Rohan, new president, had charge of the club's meetings.

MEMORIAL DAY ANNUALS ARE MAILED TO SCHOOLS

Memorial day annuals are being sent to all the schools in the state through State Superintendent John Callahan for use in connection with observance of Memorial day on May 30. Although these have not yet been received by all the schools in Appleton, they will undoubtedly be distributed within a few days.

"The True Meaning of Memorial Day" by Gov. John J. Blaine, "How the Memorial Day Annual Came to be Published" by H. W. Root, patriotic instructor of the Grand Army of the Republic, "Abraham Lincoln" by George P. Hamblet and many poems, songs and exercises are included in the edition.

THE LATEST GERMAN TERMS

Germany's new proposals for reparations for her war ravages upon France and Belgium are before the entente allies and the government at Washington. The offer is presented after seemingly careful study and estimate at Berlin of Germany's economic ability to pay the amount designated—she suggests her offer of 30,000,000,000 gold marks even may be over ambitious—and invites a neutral commission of experts, as suggested by Secretary of State Hughes some time ago, to check up her resources.

Germany makes fair promise of her willingness to sign a non-aggressive pact with France to arrange a Franco-German industrial entente and to submit disputes which may arise to international arbitration.

Germany can pay and must—how much she can pay has been the question on which reparations conferences heretofore have been broken. Her willingness to submit to international balancing of her resources, whether or not it is a Teutonic feeder toward winning America's good will, squares with the declaration that international statesmen have made, that it is the sane and sensible way to go about the solution of the problem.

Now the allies will view the new note is speculative at this time, though France and Belgium have notified Berlin that its settlement plan is entirely unsatisfactory. Great Britain, it is reported, may send a note to the German government along similar lines. Washington is discreetly silent.

It is hardly probable that Germany advanced her proposal with the idea that it would be accepted. It was preliminary and submitted as a feeler, to pave the way to negotiations that might bring about a settlement and the withdrawal of France from the Ruhr. The rejection by France of any terms that Germany might tentatively submit was equally certain. However, the acceptance of Secretary Hughes' principle opens the way for the much desired participation of the United States in untangling Europe's greatest problem, to the extent that Americans, financiers, engineers and economists might be employed in determining Germany's ability to pay.

Germany's terms must be considered not only for the good of Germany and France and Belgium but for the world. It is a world problem and the world must help solve it.

FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN IN A DAY

In the time that it takes the fastest express train to run at the highest sustained speed from the Atlantic ocean to the Mississippi river, Lieuts. Oakley G. Kelly and John A. MacReady flew in their giant plane ship from the eastern coast to Hempstead, N. Y., to the Californian seaboard at San Diego. The trip that takes five days by the fleetest steam trains on land covered by aircraft in one day.

Maj. Henry A. Arnold, commandant of Rockwell field, at San Diego, well said that the successful, daring voyage proves the practicability of commercial air-plant lines operating ships between the principal American cities. It proves, too, the not-remote possibility of sailing passenger planes between America and England or Ireland, for the nonstop flight across the United States was equivalent, in distance covered, to an air voyage to Europe.

Kelly and MacReady intend to demonstrate the possibility of flying over the Pacific from America to the Orient, a two-stop expedition. Their next voyage will be for forty-eight hours. Six and twelve hour runs are not exacting and probably are not more hazardous than land journeys. Prominent Americans have been delighted with passenger airplanes, crossing the Mediterranean from Europe to Asia and Africa and the English Channel between London and Paris and Berlin. They stated their confidence that commercial airplanning would soon be a regular service in the United States.

Kelly and MacReady flew from New York to St. Louis in seven and one-half hours. They could fly from New York to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago, in three, four-five, six hours. They could breakfast in New York and dine in Chicago or St. Louis, or they could breakfast in New York and eat their next breakfast in England or Ireland.

The nonstop, cross-country flight illustrates that the airplane is to be used in regular passenger service between the principal cities of the United States and Canada. It conclusively shows that aerial transportation is to be the new method of rapid transportation.

SAVE THE WILD FLOWERS

Wisconsin's native wild flowers are fast disappearing because of careless picking. This is true not only of the state, but the whole country. New York, Massachusetts, and other states have passed laws to prohibit vandalism, not only of flowers but the breaking of branches from blossoming trees. At present this state is not seeking legislation but effort is being made to accomplish the same by education and cooperation. Our western civilization is a queer outgrowth. We only seem to value a thing as it shows evidence of disappearing. Witness our timber, our coal and oil fields, land for state and city parks, historic buildings and wild flowers. Since the automobile came into such general use the extermination of wild flowers has been greatly hastened, for now the ravagers are not limited to fields and woods close to town but the whole country-side has been made accessible.

One of the odd delusions of the human mind is the belief that the picking of wild flowers shows a love of nature, an appreciation of beauty and that to do it gives evidence of gentle and refined qualities. Children are encouraged to bring home armfuls of wild flowers and they with women are the worst offenders. It is a poor sort of aestheticism.

The season when most mischief can be done is just beginning. If blossoms are not picked more carefully, the stem broken or cut with a sharp knife and many left to propagate their seeds.

Wisconsin will soon be without its wild flowers—the fringed gentian has disappeared, the arbutus is fast going, while the bittersweet that once clung to every roadside fence now has to be pulled along little traveled roads.

BAN HAZING

No more stirring indictment of the practice of hazing college students has come to light than the revelation of the circumstances surrounding the disappearance of Leighton Mount, a student at Northwestern university, who has been missing since a class rush at that institution nearly two years ago, and whose body has just been found buried beneath a pile of rocks.

Hazing is generally a subject for humor and the public has been up to this time tolerant of the pranks which the hazers play upon their unfortunate victims. Of late, however, there has been a growing list of casualties resulting from this practice and serious injuries and, as in the case of the student of Northwestern university, occasionally death have resulted. With the announcement of these casualties comes a stern demand for the suppression of hazing.

Officials at Northwestern university have placed a ban upon class rushes and the like. Their action is to be commended, but it does not absolve them from responsibility for having permitted it this long. Hazing belongs to a past generation, and every college should suppress it. Only in this way can a repetition of the Northwestern university tragedy be prevented.

WHAT IS SCROFULA?

In the first place let us clearly understand that there is no such disease or condition as scrofula. Wrap the notion up tenderly in batting and lay it away on the shelf with the catarrh, uric acid, acute indigestion, nervous breakdown, middle age and female complaint bugaboos.

When the conception of scrofula as a disease was in vogue it was never a very definite or clearly described condition owing to the vagueness of the idea it covered considerable diagnostic ignorance. Most of the conditions which the medical elders dubbed scrofulous were, as we now know, tuberculous—tuberculosis of lymph nodes, of skin, of joints, bones of the ear. As late as 1912 one American baby specialist still maintained, rather feebly, that there was some such condition as scrofula apart from tuberculosis. Today nobody takes the notion of scrofula seriously.

Tuberculosis of the lymph nodes or "glands," as they are called by the laity, is a very common disease in children. The nodes on the sides of the neck are often involved, probably because tubercle bacilli readily lodge in these way stations of the lymphatic drainage system when the bacilli gain entrance through diseased tonsils, decaried and infected teeth, neglected adenoids and neglected chronic nasal and ear troubles. When the tubercle bacilli are associated with the ordinary pus producing germs (sputophylococci and streptococci of various strains), suppuration is likely to occur, the abscess opening upon the skin of the neck, and a fistula or sinus remaining for a long period. This is what the laity still calls scrofula.

Tuberculosis probably more often involves the lymph nodes of the abdomen, way stations of the lymphatic drainage vessels of the stomach and intestines. Tubercle bacilli of the bovine type (from tuberculosis in cattle) taken in milk from cows or herds that are not tuberculin tested, probably lodge in the abdominal lymph nodes in childhood and remain in the nodes in a more or less active state for years, if not for life. A group of lymph nodes in the back of the chest about the bronchial tubes is very commonly infected with tuberculosis childhood, too, in nine out of ten cases the germs remain inactive and the disease remains latent, but may become active in later years, as the focus from which tubercle bacilli reach the bones of the spine to cause Pott's disease, or the hip joint, or some other member or organ.

All that proved of any benefit for the troubles our grandparents called "scrofula" is good for children with various kinds of tuberculosis. For lymph node tuberculosis probably the open air life with sun baths have given the best results.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

An Impossible Feat
How can you have air in a bedroom without a draft?—A. C.

Answer—It can't be done, but when you come to get well acquainted with air and drafts you discover that there is no harm in them; since ventilation implies air movement and fresh air is air that moves and air can't be moved into the room without a draft you just learn to turn on the draft and hop into bed. As long as you have enough over you to keep you comfortable, don't fret about the draft in the room.

Oysters And Molasses

Please tell me whether the eating of oysters and molasses at the same meal is dangerous.—C. E.

Answer—Not if the oysters and molasses are fit to eat separately. It is curious how these funny notions about "poisonous food combinations" persist, yet not so strange when we consider the contempt which the educational authorities of the country have for human physiology and hygiene.

Soap Is Antiseptic

Which would be better to make my liquid soap antiseptic, a few drops of carbolic acid or lysol?—Mrs. C. D. B.

Answer—Soap is a good antiseptic. I should advise against the addition of either.

Deformed Nose

Friend says a plaster cast will remedy it.—S. T.

J. Answer—No. Operation is necessary.

Icebergs Are Glacier Pieces

(Charles Fitzhugh Talman, in The Outlook.)

Certainly no phenomenon connected with the sea is more impressive or more sinister than the vast procession of icebergs that steal silently down the northwestern coast of America in the winter and spring of each year after the breakup of the ice fields permits their free movement.

A few of these bergs come all the way from the east coast of Greenland, after rounding Cape Farewell and traveling north as far as Davis Strait, before turning south in the Labrador current. Most of them, however, are born of the huge glacier fringe of the Greenland ice cap, bordering the east side of Baffin bay, on Greenland's west coast. A single glacier in this region has a record of producing one iceberg a day, on the average, and it is believed that at least a score of others equal this performance.

Many of the bergs formed in high latitudes never emerge from the Arctic. Others, in the course of the southward journey, are stranded off the coast of Labrador or on the northern slope of the Grand bank. Only an occasional berg eventually curves to the eastward and passes south to the tail of the bank, thus becoming a menace to transatlantic steamers. In the conflicting currents of this region it may drift about for months or even survive to the following year, though most icebergs that travel so far south are soon melted in the warm waters of the gulf stream.

Tuberculosis of the lymph nodes or "glands," as they are called by the laity, is a very common disease in children. The nodes on the sides of the neck are often involved, probably because tubercle bacilli readily lodge in these way stations of the lymphatic drainage system when the bacilli gain entrance through diseased tonsils, decaried and infected teeth, neglected adenoids and neglected chronic nasal and ear troubles. When the tubercle bacilli are associated with the ordinary pus producing germs (sputophylococci and streptococci of various strains), suppuration is likely to occur, the abscess opening upon the skin of the neck, and a fistula or sinus remaining for a long period. This is what the laity still calls scrofula.

Tuberculosis probably more often involves the lymph nodes of the abdomen, way stations of the lymphatic drainage vessels of the stomach and intestines. Tubercle bacilli of the bovine type (from tuberculosis in cattle) taken in milk from cows or herds that are not tuberculin tested, probably lodge in the abdominal lymph nodes in childhood and remain in the nodes in a more or less active state for years, if not for life. A group of lymph nodes in the back of the chest about the bronchial tubes is very commonly infected with tuberculosis childhood, too, in nine out of ten cases the germs remain inactive and the disease remains latent, but may become active in later years, as the focus from which tubercle bacilli reach the bones of the spine to cause Pott's disease, or the hip joint, or some other member or organ.

One day on the train going up to London from Salisbury we heard such contagious little shrieks of merriment in the next compartment that we could not resist peeping in to see what the fun was. There we saw three American girls in high spirits, evidently enjoying their first traveling tea party. They were alone in the compartment and in gales of laughter at their almost futile efforts to pour the tea into the cups as the train jerked and swayed on its rough and curving way.

"It was when I came here that I hit upon the idea of men not thinking that a woman can know anything about factories and machinery," she laughed. "The president of the company was familiar with my work. He asked me to take this position."

"He knew my methods and he hadn't been satisfied with those that had gone before. He agreed to pay me what I asked, and then said: 'Wilson, if you were a man I'd pay you 10 times as much as this.' That set me thinking."

"So now when anyone calls on the telephone here and wants to talk to the man in charge, I merely say: 'Yes, M. S. Wilson speaking,' and let it go at that. And then Mr. Goss right on just as if he was talking to one of his own sex. A woman can't make a man feel at home in a business deal, no matter how good she is in the home, except by posing as another man."

When he hands in the steaming cup he politely says, "Then q-u-u-u," with a rising inflection that seems to run the whole scale on the q-u-u-u. During any such transaction one is sure to be thanked three or four times and always in the same rising, quizzical tone. One is thanked when he orders the tea, again when he takes it and even again when the bill is paid. If the tea boy is still near enough when the train pulls out he smiles expansively and sends his curious little "Then q-u-u-u" as a sort of parting remark.

College To Present Its Play Tonight

Four Former Appleton High School Dramatic Stars Are Taking Part

The cast of "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," J. M. Barrie's play which the dramatic class of Lawrence college will present at Lawrence Memorial Chapel on Tuesday evening will be unusually interesting to an Appleton audience and especially to those who have attended Appleton high school.

Four Appleton young people take leading parts in the play and each one of them is from a different high school class.

Miss Mathilda Harriman, who takes the part of "Amy," the self styled "wordly wise" daughter, was member of the class of 1919.

Miss Laura Sievert, who takes the leading part of "Alice" was a member of the class of 1920, while Albert Ozilie was in the class of 1921 and Miss Rosetta Segal in the class of 1922. Each one of them has appeared in several Appleton high school productions and entered Lawrence with a start toward amateur dramatic fame.

The leading man's part in the play, that of the colonel, will be played by Karl Windesheim of Kenosha, who has taken part in two all college plays and many amateur productions during his four years at Lawrence. Everett Hall of Fond du Lac will take the part of "Steve Rollo." Miss Jennifer Kremerick of Milwaukee will be "Richardson." Miss Marian Beach of Waupun will be the nurse and Miss Helen Blaisdell of Pontiac, Ill., will be the maid.

Although the seat sale for the play was beyond the expectations of those who have charge, there were still many good seats at noon on Tuesday.

It is expected there will be a record audience for a college play because of the interest which has been aroused in the production.

WILLIAMS TALKS AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Getschow To Be Hostess At Musicals

Johns Elected President Of 1st Ward P-T

WHAT IS GOING ON TODAY?

E. L. Williams, city clerk, who spoke to the civics department of Appleton Womans club Monday afternoon in the clubrooms stated that ordinances are to the city as state laws are to the state. He said they may be presented by anyone at the meetings of the council and can be vetoed by eight members. There are twelve members on the city council.

Because many dramatic clubs produce plays just for the pleasure of it, several authors make a special concession about royalties. Miss Gale's concession is that in lieu of the $10 royalty, each club which receives special permission from her may substitute the planting of an apple tree by the wayside in order to keep alive the spirit of "The Neighbors."

Miss Gale is a pioneer in field of community interest in dramatics and her request for the planting of the tree is typical of her thoughtfulness.

Constructive criticism of the year's work will be a part of the program after the picnic. This is to be the last meeting of the workshop until next fall.

LODGE NEWS

Ninety-five persons were present at the meeting Monday evening of Royal Neighbors in South Masonic hall. A two act play, "A Bachelor Looking for a Wife" was presented. Guests were present from Kaukauna and New London and a social hour followed the play.

PASTORS WILL ARRANGE FOR VALLEY OUTING

"Jesus' Teaching Concerning God" was the subject of the paper read

Monday morning by the Rev. W. P. Hulen of Kaukauna at the meeting of the Fox River Valley Ministerial association in Appleton Y. M. C. A.

Twelve Appleton ministers were present, two from Kaukauna and one from Menasha.

Mr. J. A. Holmes, the Rev. F. O. Keicher and the Rev. E. W. Wright were appointed to arrange plans for a family picnic in June. A committee to nominate officers for next year to be reported at the time of the picnic includes the Rev. Mr. Hulen, the Rev. F. J. Schreckenberg and the Rev. D. C. Jones.

Kellogg's Bran gives permanent relief because it is ALL BRAN!

Every member of your family will enjoy better health—eat better, work better, sleep better—if they eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. It is natural, positive food for health is actually a blessing to humanity! Kellogg's gives permanent relief from constipation because it is ALL BRAN! It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation.

Kellogg's Bran cleans and purifies the drainage channel; it clears away toxic poisons and frees you from the ravages of such dread diseases as headaches, rheumatism and mental and physical depression. A week's trial of this great nature food will prove that its work for health is wonderful.

Bright's, diabetes, etc., as well as sick

Consider Kellogg's Bran as a food.

It is not a laxative nor a medicine.

Bran is the outer coating of whole wheat and contains such nourishment factors as mineral salts and other elements vital in sustaining life!

Kellogg's Bran is cooked and all ready to eat. It is delightful as a cereal, or sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal. Another popular way to eat it is to cook or mix it with a hot cereal. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person.

Delicious bakery batches are made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.

DO TWO THINGS—Eat Kellogg's

Bran each day for permanent relief from constipation and be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls; in chronic cases, with each meal.

First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

DISTRIBUTION OF POST-WAR CLAIM WORK IS NEAR END

Red Cross And Legion Decentralize Work For Former Service Men

Outagamie Red Cross chapter and American Legion service officers in townships in the county have about completed the work of decentralizing the records of the former service men in the county in order that some responsible person in each township may continue to handle the necessary work for the ex-service men's compensation. A clean-up squad which has been trying to locate every service man in this county in order to find out what claims he is entitled to and what ones he has made is at work and will probably complete its survey work by June 1.

The personnel of this squad includes five post commanders and ten Red Cross appointees; some of the latter of whom are from places where there are no American Legion posts. These have been attempting a house to house canvass in order to locate every man who was in service and to help him with his claims if he has any. A complete list of all the service men in the county will be compiled for reference, but the records of each case will be held in its community where an appointed man will have charge of the work after June 1.

Work on this decentralization of records was commenced several months ago and many men from the county have been aided in getting the necessary information through the cleanup squad. In order to further the work, Miss Ann Helm, Red Cross secretary from Appleton has made four trips into towns in the county during April. Other trips will be necessary during May.

Tin Lizzie Hospital Is More Fun Than Books To Youths At High School

If two old Ford trucks can be made to hang together and if the students in the auto mechanics class at Appleton high school can be made better automobile drivers for the experience of hanging them together, then Harry Cameron and Robert Grant, instructors in the class, will be satisfied. The class in auto mechanics at the high school is working on two old Ford trucks which were purchased, one for next to nothing and the other for $10, with the hope that they can be made to run.

For the purpose of experimentation, the high school purchased the "next to nothing" car in order that the students might study the engine by taking it apart and putting it together again. H. P. Buck, boy scout executive, needed a truck for the boys to take to camp this summer and was able to purchase one in Neenah for $10. It could not go forward nor backward nor even wobble. He turned this over to the class with the instructions to make him a first class A1 truck by camping time.

Rate made the task more difficult for the boys by having an accident happen to it on the way over from Neenah. The disabled truck was being towed into the city and when it reached Lakeside bridge, it bumped into a railing and the entire front of it was badly bent. The boys are working on the truck enthusiastically and have guaranteed to Mr. Buck that his investment will net him large profits.

Although this is the first large "commercial" job which the boys have undertaken, they have been doing practical and theoretical work during the entire course. Much practical machinery and testing apparatus have been provided for the students along with their books.

Mr. Grant has mounted the entire ignition system of a Ford car and has it constantly in running order so that the students may do work on ignition. In his laboratory work, Mr. Grant cripples the ignition and then sets a student to work to straighten it out. A special apparatus for the testing of spark plugs under the same compression as in the engine has been worked out by Mr. Grant in order that the students may have practical work with sparks.

The purpose of this course in auto mechanics, according to the instructors, is not to turn out finished mechanics at the end of the year, but to give the students a basic knowledge of automobile machinery so that they may prove themselves better drivers and may take more intelligent care of their engines. Many people have felt that this course should make good garage mechanics of the students, but the instructors say that such a thing is not only impossible but absurd.

The very intentness with which from seeing a miracle that was happening even as they worked. Unnoticed, the swift current of the Rebel dropped to sluggishness. No longer did it dash into the mouth of the Webster. The change was slow and gradual; but over at Bodine's ranch it had been appallingly sudden.

Buck, out of his saddle only seventeen minutes, had been on the point of sousing a rail into the stream at his feet when the creek that only a minute before had been full to its banks dwindled to a thin trickle that lapped the stones old Hank Webster had used as a crossing.

Realization of his predicament caused an outburst of anger; it dulled his ears to the approach of two horsemen coming from the north. They rode at a leisurely gait that was little in keeping with their tempers. The two riders were Kildare and Melody.

"They had almost reached his barn before Bodine became aware of them. He recognized Kildare.

"Look at that, Kildare," he cried, pointing to the dry creek-bottom. "Not a paltry left."

Melody and Blaze exchanged a quick uneasy glance. What had happened while they had been in the hills? Had there been another fight?

"Goin', goin,'" Melody quoted facetiously.

"Goin'?" Buck roared. "You mean gone! But I ain't gone! I'll get the cukes that did this. You wait."

The clatter of his boots on the wooden steps that led into his kitchen drowned his angry words as he dashed for his rifle.

"Look at the ground," Melody whispered. "It's all paved up. He got our stuff. Dang right by here."

"Don't say anything," Blaze cautioned. "We'll try it again."

Bodine was back the next instant.

"Come on," he cried. "We'll get inside the wire here and hit it up for the forks. They hasn't no damn Basques going to put this over on me."

CHAPTER XXIII
Basques Bewildered

With a rattle of hoofs they thundered across the wooden bridge. Bodine had built over the Webster. But even before they were out of sight an echo of the calamity that had befallen Buck had reached the men toiling at the barrier between the two creeks.

"Keep your guns handy," the youth ful leader sang out. "It's a trap. The fence was left unguarded purposely."

The trees that lined the Webster offered the best cover. Esteban hurried his men behind them. This accomplished, he sent Romero and five or six companions hastening through the brush. They were back in fifteen minutes without having seen a sign of an enemy.

By the time they had held a consultation, Bodine and the two Double A men had drawn into sight. The road they were following led across an open plain for half a mile before it reached the creek.

The Basques were ready. Esteban cautioned them not to shoot. Lying in the heavy underbrush, they were not visible to the oncoming horsemen. The three men were within a hundred yards of the creek before they caught the first hint of ambush.

Bodine went for his rifle, but Esteban stopped him with "Hands up, or we'll shoot to kill!"

The way the rifles began to peck out of the dead brush convinced the three riders that wisdom was the better part of valor.

"Come on," Esteban cried. "We want to talk to you."

Bodine trailed his eyes over the determined Basques.

"Ortega Ugande. Arrascada-humph! All the social leaders are on hand, I see," he muttered aloud.

"Well, why don't you shoot, or do something to celebrate the cute trick you birds played on me?"

"You mean, that you played on us," Esteban flung at him. "You and your injunction! Take a look at that!"

Bodine's eyes followed him as he pointed to the dry bed of the Rebel above the place where it joined the Webster. His mouth became just a great sagging wash as comprehension of the fact that the Rebel was as dry as the Webster dawned on him.

Bewildered, Bodine rolled his head from side to side.

"Acklin," he muttered slowly; "he's foiled us all."

"Acklin?"

A rumbling murmur passed through the crowd as it echoed Esteban's question.

The boy turned on Blaze:

"Is that right, Kildare?"

The crowd shifted its attention to the Double A man. Blaze met their stare calmly.

"We've been up beyond the peak for almost three weeks. We haven't seen a Double A man since we left."

"What you been doin' n' the Buttes?"

This is a masterly coupling of violin solos. The calm musical reverie of the lovely "Meditation" from "Thais" is an effective foil for the swift vivacity of "The Dance of the Goblins." Culbertson has been in America a comparatively short time, but has created a sensation wherever heard.

JACK McAULIFFE TO MEET FIRPO ON MILK FUND CARD

Detroiter And South American To Precede Johnson—Willard Contest

By Associated Press

New York—Jack McAuliffe, the second, is the least known in pugilistic circles of any of the four main performers in the milk fund show at the Yankee stadium next Saturday afternoon, but the Detroit boxer is chock full of confidence. He is matched with Louis Angel Firpo, the South American man, in a 14-round contest preceding the Jess Willard-Floyd Johnson encounter.

"Firpo has no fears for me," thus does McAuliffe sum up his case. The westerner is undaunted by the imposing knockout record of the Argentinian and the fact that in his last engagement Firpo battered the veteran Bill Brennan to such an extent that the latter was taken to a hospital with concussion of the brain.

McAuliffe points to his own knockout record as an answer to Firpo's punching prowess. It shows that he has scored 16 knockouts in 17 bouts.

Floyd Johnson who is matched with Jess Willard in the final bout on Saturday's program is the only man who has remained the limit with McAuliffe, according to the records. Floyd and Jack battled six rounds at Tacoma, Wash., in 1922 and the latter was awarded the referee's decision. McAuliffe's last knockout was over Jlueche Walker in three rounds. The others, all scored before the end of the seventh round, were against comparatively unknowns.

DAUSS WINS AGAIN FOR COBB'S TIGERS

Chicago—Detroit bunched hits on Monday and defeated Chicago, 8 to 4, in the final game of the series. George Dauss kept Chicago's hits well scattered with the exception of two inings, and as a result won his fifth consecutive game. Home runs by Cobb and Hooper, the former's with two on and the latter's with one, and the fielding of McClellan and Jones were features.

Batteries: Dauss and Bassler; Connelly, T. Blankenhip and Schalk;

UHL BEATS BROWNS

Cleveland—The Indians evened up the series with St. Louis on Monday, winning by a score of 12 to 3. Uhl was in good form, holding the Browns to seven hits and also starred at the bat, making three hits, including two doubles. Manager Speaker was still under suspension. Summa played center and Brower right.

Batteries: Wright, Root, Kopl and Collins and Severed; Uhl and O'Neill.

FACTORY BASEBALL MEN TO MEET WEDNESDAY IN "Y"

A general baseball meeting of the Interfactory Baseball association is scheduled for 7:30 Wednesday night in the Y. M. C. A. when the suggestions and schedule of the rules committee will be acted upon. The tentative opening date is set for Saturday, May 19.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Another set of opening games is scheduled on Sunday in the Wisconsin State league. This time out Green Bay, Appleton, Fond du Lac, and Oshkosh to be at home entertaining Sheboygan, Kaukauna, Menominee-Menominee and Menasha respectively. With the "first game" falls out of the way, the teams will settle down to work in the pennant chase which won't be decided until late in September. There is a great season of ball ahead of fans.

Well, Earl Smithson did it again. Poor Marinette-Menominee fell victim to Earl's no hit habit this time. We recall well the day Smithson did the trick on the Brandt park with Appleton the goat. It was Clarence Poens luck too to take his initial dip in the State circuit. Green Bay will visit Appleton on Memorial day, May 30.

Well, we can all breathe easier now because the heavyweight championship encountered between Jack Dempsey and Thomas Gibbons has been signed, sealed, and delivered for Shely, Mont., on July Fourth. All the minor difficulties brought forth by Jack Kearns were ironed out when the promoters greased the hand of Dempsey's manager with a cool hundred thousand. Those backing the scrap are expecting a million dollar gate. Maybe they'll get it but to us it looks like heap big coin.

Connie Mack's Athletics continue to prance along at a merry clip in the American league race. The Philadelphia team copped a series from the Yanks in the Hugmen's own park. Mack's youngsters appear to be able to go just as well abroad as when playing in their own camping ground. The Athletics are now on a swing around the circuit and, if they return home with an even break, some of the other pennant contenders are

JACK ZWICK MAY MAKE BOW HERE IN ARMORY RING MAY 18

Johnston Looking For Opponent—Young And Meisner Refuse To Meet Sheik

Now that Elmer Johnston has announced that there's going to be a boxing show here May 18 fans everywhere are asking who the principals will be. From all indications the burden will fall upon the shoulders of Jack Zwick, Kaukauna's pride and joy.

Zwick is one of the fighters who has been promised a date in Appleton this month. Promoter Johnston believes that fans will be more interested in seeing Zwick than any other man that could be obtained for this city. Zwick's losing streak ought to be over soon. Anyway Appleton and Kaukauna fans still have a lot of faith in the Electric City glove tender and Elmer ought to fill the ar-mory easily.

LOOKING FOR OPPONENT

Getting Zwick here will depend much on the ability of obtaining a suitable opponent. Jabber Young will not meet him, positively not something like $500 was offered to Young during the time there was a popular clamor that the Kaukauna and Neenah fighters meet, but Young and his manager shouted "NO." Using capital letters, Archie Meisner, the coming welter-wait to box here May 18 but he will meet anybody but Zwick.

Despite the fact that Zwick suffered a few hickups recently he is still feared by the welters and as a matter of fact they have reasons to. "Pat" Callahan who conferred recently with Johnston, declared that he has sent his protege to a farm near Oconto where Zwick will undergo training with new trainers. Zwick's sad meetings in the ring recently are laid a heavy lot to his training partners. Just who is conditioning the Kaukauna lad now is a mystery but it is understood as a matter of fact that the entire list of old trainers has been substituted.

But if Zwick is to fight here May 18 he must be an opponent in sight. Promoter Johnston is casting glances in the direction of Tommy Neary, Milwaukee manager by Bob Mohr. Neary and Zwick met two years ago and Zwick gave him a bad beating. But of course, "them days" are over. Neary only recently demonstrated that he would make a worthy opponent for Zwick when he started for ten rounds with Pinkie Mitchell.

A Zwick-Neary card wouldn't be so bad. Promoter Johnston however, will have to do some hustling to bring the pair together by May 18.

YE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Rose

They were put bright and early Saturday morning after the finny tribe and it being "initial dip day" many participated in their first venture to give the "old" line a good "soaking" if nothing else, however, reports say that many successful catches were made.

Saturday night the sporting goods stores did a rushing business and one of the clerks in a prominent store said that almost every fisherman that he waited on during the evening said they were bound for Fremont and the Wolf river. Reports coming in said that there was not a boat available after 7 A. M. and that white bass and pike fishermen covered the bridge.

Some good catches were made around Brighton, they say and the shore line too was dotted with the "line welters."

Reports from Neenah say that the fishing behind the dam is excellent and the white bass and pike are biting.

The trout fishermen report fishing good and Saturday there were displayed in one of the sporting goods dealers window two trays of trout. One of them contained two nice German Brown trout caught near Wild Rose, Wis., while the other contained some of the much sought for speckled beauties.

Grant Phillips, returned from Wild Rose Sunday night with several trout in his creek in which there were several nice German Brown's and quite a few of our famous speckled beauties. It was a "good thing" to look too at and undoubtedly Mr. Phillips was very proud of his first catch.

Going to start worrying about the so-called White Elephants.

Oscar Nelson, managing director of the Janesville Association of Commerce has been chosen president of the Wisconsin Bowling association. The Badger pin classic will be staged in Janesville next winter and it is always customary to name a tournament city alley bonanza as head of the state pin body. The tourney will get underway Jan. 26. Oh yes, we nearly forgot, Bill Fenster will again hold down the secretary's job.

Old men are must be making Tris Speaker or grumpy. The veteran manager of the Cleveland Indians had a number of squabbles with the umpires this season and right now is in under suspension for run in. Speaker recently paid his respects to Hildebrandt and Ormsby in a way, which it is said, roused the ire of President Johnson. Do you remember way back when the famous Tris was called the easiest player in the majors to get along with?

Elaborate Preparations Under Way For First Home Game Here With Kaukauna

Old Fashioned Opening Is Planned—Brautigan Makes Change In Outfield—Record Crowd Is Anticipated

Appleton's next baseball game is with Kaukauna on Sunday when the Papermakers will open the home season of the Wisconsin State league.

An old fashioned opening, a band, possibly a parade and with Mayor Henry Reuter tossing the first ball, is being planned by Sylvester & Miller company. Elaborate preparations in addition to improving the team itself for a royal welcome to Kaukauna are under way. Appleton's near ninth inning rally at Menasha last week has convinced the local bugs that the 1923 club isn't half bad and Appleton fans wouldn't trade the Papermakers for any club in the circuit. Kaukauna's victory over Fond du Lac Sunday means that Manager Brautigan will have to exercise all of his wits to beat the Electric City and use everything to iron out the rough spots shown in the inner garden on the Menasha plot. More practice, smoother fielding ought to put the Appleton club on top of the ladder in short order.

Trentman who probably will do the hurling for Kaukauna Sunday will be all acquaintance to Appleton fans, having twirled in the old state league for Manitowoc and other clubs. Trentman struck out seven men but the Fondyites found him for nine bingles.

Manager Brautigan is planning a solitary change for the coming tilt. Len Smith is expected to fill the right field position in place of George Beyer who will be held in reserve. George, who finished high in the hitting last season as failed to connect this year.

A record crowd is anticipated. The Appleton club is making the contest a booster affair and will give away an automobile. Box seats are being fixed up and the stand is practically in ship shape now. The reserved seats will be ready about Wednesday.

FIGHT CRITICS NOT IMPRESSED BY CARP'S WORK

Georges Wins French Heavy-weight Title From Nilles But—

By Associated Press

Paris—Although Georges Carpenter's comeback against Marcel Nilles gave him the French heavy-weight title experts who saw him knock Nilles in the eighth round of a scheduled 15 round battle Sunday were not impressed with "gorgeous Georges" showing. In fact it seemed as though a harder fighter than Nilles could have put Carpenter away in either the second or third round.

The dash and spirit that marked the Georges who once made a pilgrimage to Boyle's Thirty acres were tempered by a cautiousness that let Nilles maintain a punishing offensive throughout the first five rounds. Carpenter seemed to suffer severely from the attack on his stomach, which Nilles varied with lefts to the face.

In the sixth, however, Carpenter opened with an uppercut that fell short, landing on the body. Nilles declared that the blow was foul, Bernstein, the referee refused to recognize the contention. The champion finished the rest of that round and the entire seventh with difficulty and went down for the final count in the eighth, when Carpenter put over a right to the jaw.

HAMMER CARD PITCHERS

Pittsburg—Pittsburg hammered four St. Louis pitchers for twenty hits and a total of twenty-eight bases and won Monday's game, 11 to 4. The veteran Babe Adams was hit hard by the Cardinals at times, but tightened in the pinches. The Pirates left Monday on their invasion of the east after having won all seven games played at home. First Baseman Grimm of the Pirates, who slammed out three hits on Monday, one a triple, has hit safely in all twenty games played this season.

APPLETON PUTS O. K. ON COUNTY LEGION COUNCIL

Oney Johnston Post Approves
Constitution, Elects
Delegates

Unanimous endorsement of the proposed county council of the American Legion was given by Oney Johnston post of the legion at its monthly meeting in Elk hall Monday evening when the constitution was adopted a n d delegates elected.

Henry J. Peticrew, commander of the post, is a delegate by virtue of his office, as the constitution directs that the command or shall be a member of the county council. The others elected were L. Hugo Kellner and Joseph Marston, Jr. Alternates are H. R. Little, vice commander of the post, and Arthur G. Graef and J. N. Fischer.

Other posts in Outagamie also are to endorse the constitution. A meeting then is to be called at Seymour to complete the organization and elect permanent officers.

Each legion post will have three delegates in the council, each entitled to one vote. This body will have jurisdiction over all countywide activities, it was explained but will not have a voice in the affairs of the local post.

Welfare work will be its main object. The case formerly handled by the Red Cross will be executed in each community by the local post. The county council probably will employ a part-time service officer to direct this work.

A fund of $500 to be assessed against posts according to paid-up members will be the means of financing the county council for the first six months. Oney Johnston post approved this recommendation of the finance committee which drafted this plan.

Mrs. Henry Osinga has returned from Wisconsin Rapids, where she was called by the illness of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Gerry Osinga.

WEATHER NO BAR TO TOURISTS WHO CAMP

Two young Milwaukeeans bound for the fishing streams of Northern Wisconsin, spent a cool night at Alion park Monday evening. Some tourists reported to George Merkof, supervisor of the park that a number of Wisconsin cities have not as yet opened their tourist campsites. If the tourists are hardy enough, they will find camping possible at Ahola park all the year round. It never closes.

Miss Esther Harm, 748 North Division st., and Miss Viola Behnke, Batenst., hiked to Menasha Saturday and returned during the evening. The girls are 14 years old.

SEALER IS TESTING PENNY SCALES IN CITY

Joseph Hodzina, city sealer of weights and measures is testing the "drop-a-penny" scales in front of business houses. Quite frequently they are found to vary in accuracy and the adjustments are made by a representative of the scales company who accompanies the official. In weighing themselves people frequently make use of slugs, buttons and occasionally dimes as well as pennies. The dimes are accounted for by the lack of small change. There are more than two dozen of these scales in the city and they are operated by two companies.

ON THE SCREEN

LAURETTE TAYLOR GREAT AS FILM 'PEG'

Laurette Taylor, who won the hearts of a million people with her famous characterization of the delightful Peg in J. Hartley Manners' play, "Peg o' My Heart," was again seen in her celebrated role—this time in screen form. It was presented for the first time yesterday at the Elite theatre.

and it is a safe assertion that the star has endeared herself even more to the vast American audience which is certain to flock to see the film.

As a stage play, "Peg o' My Heart" has had one of the most phenomenal runs in theatrical history. It has had 6,608 performances in the United States alone. It has been played in England, Australia, India, New Zealand, South Africa, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Paris. The screen now puts it within the range of enjoyment of people residing in communities not reached by stage performances.

Miss Taylor covers herself with distinction through her sympathetic and tender portrayal of "Peg" in the screen version. Shades of her whimsical form. It was presented for the first time yesterday at the Elite theatre. The spoken play because of the natural limitations of the theatre, are depicted in the celluloid version, and it is the opinion of many who have seen the stage play that the photoplay even excels in charm of characterization. Miss Taylor's own inimitable Peg, the footlights. Here we see the slighted Irish lass, accustomed to happiness in her own humble home, faced with misery in the luxurious surroundings in which she has been sent to live. We see her caught in the problems of the aristocratic Chichesters; and we see her save her snobbish cousin from a tragic elopement.

But never have we been so truly happy in the theatre as when we watched the delightful scene in which Jerry—Peg's handsome guardian—tells her how rich she is, how the Chichesters really depended on her for much; and finally, how he loved her. This pathetic scene was admirably portrayed by Miss Taylor and Marion Hamilton; and it made a lasting impression on those who saw it.

King Vidor, who directed the photoplay, has done well by Hartley Manners' play.

Mary O'Hara has provided an excellent adaptation, and the photography is a decided credit to George Barnes.

Why divide the family at breakfast?

WHY take coffee for yourself, while saying "No" to the children? It is true, as most parents are careful to explain, that little folks should not endanger health and growth through the drug element in coffee and tea, but—

Your health is valuable, too—and their desire for a hot drink with breakfast may be as great as yours.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either is about one-half cent a cup.
